

Important Notice for RBC FINCO clients

As part of recent upgrades made to our banking platform, clients are reminded to please use your new transit and account number(s) associated with your FINCO account(s) when making payments or transfers.

After September 6, 2021 any payments or transfers made using the old transit 01695 will no longer be accepted.

Be sure to update any online payment information or account information you may have set up for automatic payments or services requiring accounts details.
