MORTGAGES, PERSONAL LOANS, OVERDRAFT FACILITIES AND CREDIT CARDS

You authorize us, mortgage insurers or other third parties acting on our behalf, to obtain credit information about you in connection with: (i) the mortgage, loan, overdraft facility or credit card application; (ii) subsequent issuance of mortgage insurance with respect to the mortgage; or (iii) inclusion of your mortgage or loan in a securitization transaction. Such information may be obtained at any time prior to, as well as after, approval for a mortgage, loan, overdraft facility or credit card is given.

All information obtained from or concerning you in connection with approving the mortgage, loan, overdraft facility or credit card, including credit reporting agency information, will be accessible to, and may be used by, mortgage insurers for any purposes related to the provision of loan insurance in general. You hereby consent to the use of this information.

Statement Pertaining To Third Party Applicable To Mortgages, Personal Loans, Overdraft Facilities and Credit Cards

The proceeds of this credit facility will not be used by or on behalf of a third party. A third party is a person or an entity (for example a corporation), other than the applicant/co-applicant (or someone authorized to give instructions in respect of the account, for example a person with a power of attorney), who will benefit from the proceeds of the loan, mortgage, overdraft facility or credit card. It means that the individual or entity gives instructions in respect of the proceeds, and directs the manner in which the proceeds will be used, but is not on the application for the loan, mortgage, overdraft facility or credit card. To make this statement you have considered whether you or a co-applicant will take instructions from someone else or another entity regarding what you or a co-applicant should do with the funds or how to manage the loan, mortgage, overdraft facility or credit card.

Note: Where the applicant or co-applicant is a parent, intending to use the credit facility to benefit their child (for example to purchase a house for the child or use funds for child's education) the child is not a “third party”.

Credit Card

If your application for a credit card is approved, you must request for us to open an account in your name, issue a credit card to you (and to the co-applicant if required) in accordance with the provisions contained in the RBC Credit Card Agreement and you acknowledge that you are required to renew and replace the credit card(s) periodically.

Fees

If you are applying for a mortgage, personal loan, overdraft facility or credit card, you agree to pay the credit reporting agency search fee applicable at the time of your application, even if your application is not approved by us or a credit transaction is not completed. If you are applying for a mortgage, personal loan or overdraft facility you agree to pay all legal, transactional and management fees and any other expenses incurred by us in relation to your application, even if your application is not approved by us or a credit transaction is not completed.

You certify that all of the information provided to us in connection with this application and any credit application is true and complete.

DISCLOSURESGeneral Deposit Account Information

The following provisions apply to all our accounts and services, as described in these Disclosures. They are important so please read them carefully.

Service Fees

Common service fees are published in our "Schedule of Fees & Service Charges" otherwise they may be obtained from the Bank upon request. Periodically, there may be revisions to our fees and/or charges. We will inform you of any such revisions. You may at any time obtain a copy of the Schedule of Fees & Service Charges at your branch or you may access the information on our website.

Interest rates and Interest Calculation

Based on the type of financial product you have with us, interest is calculated daily, monthly, quarterly or semiannually on the closing credit balance and paid daily, monthly, quarterly or semiannually, respectively on the second business day of the following calendar month, backdated to the previous business day. The interest rate is an annual interest rate. The interest calculation for each account is a simple interest calculation. Interest is earned in the currency of the account. Not all types of accounts we offer provide interest. You can refer to our Personal Banking and Savings Accounts brochure for more information on interest rates and interest calculation.

Cheque Protection

If you have a checking account, you may use crossings when writing cheques. A crossing on a cheque is an instruction to a bank that the cheque must be deposited to a bank account by the person negotiating the cheque. You can cross a cheque by drawing two parallel lines through any unused space on your cheque. This method of cheque protection may not be applicable in some countries. When you write a cheque you should draw a line after any words or numbers, as this will prevent unauthorized persons from adding any extra numbers or names.

Please take careful note that your cheques should bear the date on which you write the cheque. Postdating cheques may incur the risk of us paying out the funds stipulated on the cheque prior to the date you have written on it. It is therefore not recommended that you postdate any of your cheques.

Stopping a Cheque

Sometimes you may need to stop a cheque from being paid out. To stop a cheque you will need to contact your branch and then confirm your instructions in writing, providing details of any replacement cheque you may have written or you may use our Online Banking service to stop a cheque. If the cheque has been deposited or encashed, it can no longer be stopped. The Bank will adhere to the laws that apply to cheques.

To stop a cheque, we will need you to provide us with the following information:

- the cheque number;
- the account number the cheque was issued for;
- the amount;
- the date it was issued; and
- to whom you made it payable.

There is a charge for stopping a cheque. These charges can be found in our Schedule of Fees and Service Charges.

Converting Your Account

From time to time it may become necessary for us to change the features of your deposit account and/or convert it into another type of account in our range. We will only do so with a valid reason. We will provide you with a notice period before your account is converted and give you the opportunity to accept the new features or new type of account, choose another type of account or close your account. We will proceed to convert your account after the notice period has expired, unless you have notified us in writing of the fact that you wish to have the account converted into a different type of account or wish to close your existing account.

OVERDRAFT FACILITIES

An overdraft facility allows you to overdraw your account up to the limit established by us. An overdraft facility for your personal checking account is optional and is only available to you if you are over 18 years of age and you qualify for an overdraft facility. You can apply for an overdraft facility by means of a separate credit application. If you are approved for an overdraft facility, we will then set your Overdraft Limit which will be reviewed by us annually and can be altered or revoked by us at any time after a review.

The interest rate on overdraft balances as set out in our Schedule of Fees and Service Charges is a debit interest rate for personal accounts as determined by us unless otherwise negotiated with your assigned account manager and approved by us.

How Overdraft Interest Is Calculated

Overdraft interest is calculated on the daily closing overdraft balance. For all accounts, the interest is calculated from the first day of the calendar month up to and including the last day of that month. Public holidays and/or weekends are also included in the calculation of overdraft interest. If you close your account before the last day of the month, overdraft interest is calculated up to the day before the account is closed and charged on the day it is closed.

Repayment

If an account is overdrawn, you will make a deposit at least once each month, in an amount that will cover the monthly overdraft interest. You will pay us interest on the overdraft amount at our prevailing debit interest rate for overdrafts unless you have negotiated an alternative rate with your account manager. We will deduct the interest from the account on a monthly basis. You will pay us promptly, when asked by us, the amount of any overdraft outstanding on your account, together with the interest calculated over the amount of the overdraft. You will pay these amounts notwithstanding the fact that you may have paid interest and/or made monthly deposits to the account as required.

Termination

Either party can terminate an overdraft facility by giving written notice. If you are delinquent in repayment or have mismanaged the overdraft facility, we may terminate the overdraft facility provided to you at any time. In case of such a termination, we will give you written notice of the termination of the overdraft facility, however this does not relinquish you of any obligations until the outstanding overdraft amount, interest and charges have been paid to us in full.

TRANSACTIONS MADE WITH YOUR RBC ROYAL BANK DEBIT CARD

ATM Banking

Using your RBC Royal Bank Debit Card, you may check account balances and perform withdrawals, transfers and bill payments from your account and deposit to your local currency account at any RBC ATM. Each account transaction made at any of our ATMs may incur an ATM transaction fee applicable to the account accessed.

Where available, your RBC Royal Bank Debit Card may be used at non-RBC ATMs displaying the respective switch provider of the country e.g. LINX*, Cashnet, Carifs, Cirrus, Maestro, Plus or VISA‡ symbols to make withdrawals from your Account. There may be a fee charged for using these networks.

Some ATM operators apply a surcharge (also known as a convenience fee) for use of their ATMs, which may differ depending on the operator. This convenience fee is not an RBC Royal Bank fee. It is added directly to the amount of your cash withdrawal. All clients who use these ATMs may be charged a convenience fee regardless of the type of account you hold.

Foreign Currency Conversion of Cash Withdrawals Made at ATMs Outside of Country

When you make a cash withdrawal whether inside or outside the country in a foreign currency at an ATM displaying the Cirrus, Maestro, Plus or VISA‡ symbols, any fees that may be imposed by the ATM operator will be converted to the currency of your account and charged to your account. Since exchange rates fluctuate, the rate applied will usually differ from a posted exchange rate at the time of your withdrawal.

You will be liable to the Bank in respect to any Instrument as if it had been duly presented for payment, protested, and/or given notice of dishonor to all parties to it as provided by law.

8. U.S. and other foreign currency Instruments

You will ensure that, before you negotiate an Instrument drawn on a financial institution from the U.S. or other foreign country, each Instrument will bear your name (as it appears on the Account) and the number of your Account at the back of the Instrument. If the required information is not present, the Instrument will be returned and we will debit your Account.

9. Joint Accounts

If you have agreed to be a co-owner of a joint Account with one or more persons who have also agreed to be co-owners of the joint Account, and all co-owners have provided the required consents, the following provisions apply:

- (a) You will be jointly and severally liable for the performance of all of your duties under this Agreement, including repayment of any joint Account overdraft (and overdraft interest) no matter which co-owner caused the overdraft or overdraft interest.
- (b) Any one of you may do the following (even if you have set up signing authorities to the contrary under subsection (d) below):
 - (i) make deposits to the Account payable to all or any one of you. We may also endorse any Instruments received from or for any one or more of you;
 - (ii) provide instructions to stop payment on any Instrument drawn on a joint Account;
 - (iii) receive Account statements and other transaction records on a joint Account; and
 - (iv) make decisions related to the Account that are administrative in nature, such as those that do not remove funds from the Account, for example: any co-owner may change the mailing address for paper Account Statements. For clarity, removing or adding a co-owner is not considered an administrative decision.
- (c) Each one of you will have access to all of the account history and transaction details for this Account and you agree to this access being provided to any of the co-owners of the Account.
- (d) Signatures: You may choose to set up the signing authorities for the joint Account (as designated on the required bank documents) in the manner specified below. We may honor any Instrument and accept any other instruction or direction in respect of the joint Account that has been signed, submitted or received:
 - (i) "Any One To Sign", by one (or more) of you and for this purpose each of you appoints the other(s) as your agent(s).
 - (ii) "All Sign", only if it has been signed by all of you.

If you do not choose any signing authorities for the joint Account, each of you agrees that you have chosen for the Account to be set up as described under option (i) above 'Any One To Sign'.

- (e) Adding a co-owner: you agree that by adding one or a number of co-owner(s) to the Account, the added co-owner(s) will also have access to the complete previous account history and transaction details for the Account and you agree to this access being provided to any of the co-owners.
- (f) Removing a co-owner: if one or a number of co-owners is/are to be removed from the joint Account, the joint Account may be closed and a new Account may be opened in the name of the remaining (co-)owner(s).
- (g) The delivery of paper Account Statements or notices: where you request paper statements or notices any delivery made to the last address appearing in our records is to be considered a delivery to each of you.
- (h) Death of a joint account holder:
 - a. The following is applicable for all jurisdictions except the Dutch Caribbean jurisdictions: It is your express intention that all funds now or in the future on deposit in the joint Account are owned by you as joint tenants with rights of survivorship. The Bank is entitled to treat such funds in the manner described in this provision. Upon the death of any one (or more) of you, the deceased Account co-owner's interest will pass automatically to the surviving joint Account co-owner(s). Once the Bank receives evidence acceptable to us of the death of a co-owner, we will close the joint Account and open a new Account in the name(s) of the surviving joint Account co-owner(s).

- b. The following is applicable for the Dutch Caribbean jurisdictions: In the event of death of any one (or more) of you, the surviving joint-accountholder(s) shall be and remain entitled to perform any action with respect to this account. You explicitly acknowledge the fact that in the event of death of any of the joint-accountholders, the heirs of the deceased, having replaced the deceased, shall have the same rights to the account(s) as the surviving joint-accountholder(s), if the heirs have conformed to the required formalities. Notwithstanding the aforementioned, the Bank may at its sole discretion, temporarily block certain accounts, in order to allow the heirs to conform to the required formalities.
- (i) Legal process: If we receive legal process against any of you, we may be required by law to remit all the funds held in the joint Account to a third party judgment creditor (attaching party) or as otherwise ordered in the process. You acknowledge that we are authorized to comply with such an attachment or order.
- (j) Set off: Each one of you agrees that we are authorized to charge and set-off moneys in the joint Account to satisfy any debt (including overdraft on any other account) owed to us by any one or more of you.

This provisions contained in this paragraph are subject to the laws of the jurisdiction in which the joint Account is maintained.

10. Third parties and appointing an attorney

- (a) You represent and warrant that the Account will not be used by, or on behalf of, any third party without the Bank's prior written permission.
- (b) You may appoint one or more attorney(s) to act for you in respect of an Account. However, we may refuse to accept the appointment at our sole discretion if it is not satisfactory to us, or we may refuse to honor any Account transaction made by an attorney (or by any committee, property guardian or similar representative appointed by a court to act for you in respect of an Account).
- (c) If an Account is a joint Account, we may also refuse to honor any Account transaction made by an attorney (or by any committee, property guardian or similar representative appointed by a court to act for you in respect of an Account) unless their appointment in respect of the joint Account has been agreed upon in writing by all Account owners.

11. Payment Instructions

- (b) You acknowledge that third parties may not always treat payments as being received as of the date the instructions are given or, in the case of post-dated payments, on the later date. You acknowledge that we are not liable for any damages or losses resulting from problems or disputes with such a third party, such as the third party not crediting you for a payment for any reason (even if that third party is no longer included on your payee list), charging you late fees or interest penalties, not supplying goods or services purchased or supplying goods or services that are not suitable, unless caused solely by our negligence. You agree to settle any disputes you may have with a third party regarding payments directly with that third party.
- (c) You are responsible for ensuring that all payee information (including account numbers, payee names or email addresses) required by us to complete your payment instructions to a third party are accurate at all times. We may, without notice, update your payee information, including account numbers, payee names or email addresses, if informed of a change by such a payee or if we deem it necessary. We may, at our sole discretion and without prior notice to you, decline or refuse to act on an instruction given or purported to be given by you, including instructions relating to post-dated payments or if we believe that you or the recipient of any payment is engaging in fraudulent, unlawful or improper activity or that an error or mistake has occurred. We may at our sole discretion and without prior notice to you, remove any third party from the list of payees to whom you may make a payment through us.

- (c) You acknowledge that copies or images of Instruments may be provided to you before we have determined whether the Instrument will be honored or accepted. You acknowledge that such copies or images of Instruments are made available by us as a service to you, and that the provision of such a copy or image of an Instrument does not mean that a transaction has been processed, or in any way obliges us to honor or accept the Instrument.

14. Account verification

- (a) You must regularly examine all Account transaction information in your Account Statements, bankbook, or using any other method to review your Account transaction information, such as Electronic Banking Services.
- (b) If electronic Account Statements are available to you and you opt to receive such statements, you agree to check your electronic Account Statements regularly and at least once each month and, if your Account is a joint Account, to share and deliver copies of the electronic Account Statements to any co-owner who does not have access to online banking.
