Introduction

- RateLink Preference®
- RateLink Essential® (Regular & Sixty-Plus)
- Royal Bank Sixty-Plus® Accounts
- Royal Trust® Accounts

Please contact us for information on how our current suite of personal deposit Account offerings may better suit your needs.

This document details the features, fees and services related to the Discontinued Accounts listed within this document. The terms and conditions governing all our Accounts as set out in the booklet entitled “RBC Royal Bank Disclosures and Agreements related to Personal Deposit Accounts effective June 1, 2018” also apply to these Discontinued Accounts to the extent they are not incompatible with this document.

RateLink Preference

RateLink Preference (the “Operating Account”) allows you to select additional companion Accounts, any two Accounts in Canadian dollars and one in U.S. dollars (the “Companion Accounts”), with Monthly Fees waived. These Accounts can be held in your name alone or in your name and that of your co-account owner. PRF means that your Companion Accounts are linked to the Operating Account.

Account owners have the option of linking together the balances of their other Canadian dollar Accounts (excluding the RBC High Interest eSavings® Account), those of their spouse, and the RBC Leo’s Young Savers Account® belonging to their minor children or minor grandchildren for the purpose of determining the RateLink Deposit Interest rate to be applied to all their interest-bearing, linked Accounts. There is no restriction on the number of eligible Accounts that can be linked to the RateLink Preference Account. Canadian dollar linked Accounts that are non-interest-bearing do not pay interest. RBC Leo’s Young Savers Accounts linked to an RBC® RateLink Preference Account will be automatically removed from the link upon conversion.

Note the U.S. Personal Account PRF is not insured by the CDIC.

Alliance Plan Note on Deposit Interest: Each interest-bearing Account in the Alliance Plan earns the Alliance Plan interest rate. Canadian and U.S. dollar Accounts may be combined in one Alliance Plan for the purpose of earning greater interest. Clients may also keep a separate Plan of Accounts in U.S. dollars only. The U.S. dollar balance used in the calculation of interest is considered at par with Canadian dollar balances. However, the interest paid on U.S. Accounts is in U.S. dollars.
